

Squaredheads for PHILIPPE STARCK

'Squaredheads' was the title of a small group of ceramics I have been working on few years ago.

My research was about the meaning of the word squaredhead, that speaks about narrow-minded people and being surrounded by them..

Almost

ten years later, around 2007, I started again working on it, from a new point of view.

Philippe Starck noted my pieces and liked them. Since then I made several Squaredheads for few different Starck's projects in Paris, Los Angeles, South France, Venice and I am still working on it.

Every piece is unique and completely made by hand.

4 works

30x30x40 cm - painted ceramic

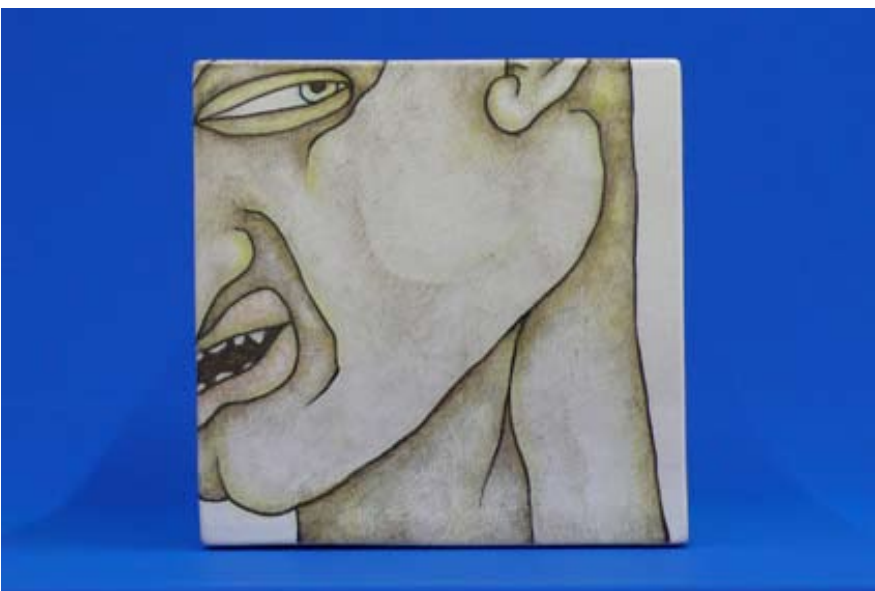

for Le Meurice Hotel

Paris

12 works
30x30x30 cm - painted ceramic
for Le Meridien Hotels
Los Angeles

3 works
35x35x40 cm - painted ceramic and aluminium leaves for Villa Alpha
France

